

Call for Applications: Become Network Member for Climate Justice Advocacy

Samprity Aid Foundation invites Civil Society Organizations (CSOs) from all 64 districts to apply for selection as network partners under our Climate Justice Advocacy and Networking Project, funded by the Climate Justice Rolene Fund.

We are looking for CSOs passionate about promoting climate justice, addressing environmental challenges, and fostering community engagement. Selected CSOs will play a crucial role in advocacy efforts, building networks, and driving meaningful change in their respective districts.

Eligibility:

- Must be a registered CSO operating within the district of application.
- Proven track record in advocacy, community mobilization, or climate action.
- Youth-led and Women-led organizations are strongly encouraged to apply and will be given preference.

Benefits of Selection:

- Opportunity to be part of a nationwide climate justice advocacy network.
- Capacity-building support and access to resources for climate initiatives.
- Collaboration opportunities with national and international stakeholders.

How to Apply:

Interested CSOs are requested to submit their applications using the provided template here. Please ensure all required information are included and send it to cjrp.samprityaid@gmail.com and CC to : secretariate.cjnb@gmail.com

Deadline: Applications must be submitted by 15th February 2025
